The DAIRY

BREEDING AGE FOR HEIFERS

Time Depends Largely on Development and Season of Year—Cool Season Is Favored.

The age at which heifers should freshen depends largely upon their development and the season when it is desired to have most of the cows freshen. Although the larger breeds do not mature at so early an age as the smaller ones, in most cases it is possible by liberal feeding to obtain suffi-

Splendid Dairy Heifer.

cient growth so that heifers may profitably be bred to freshen at two years of age. It is seldom desirable for a heifer to freshen at an earlier age.

In deciding upon the time to breed,
the size and development should be given greater consideration than the age, since it is important that the heifer have good growth by the time she freshens. However, if allowed to become too mature before breeding, especially in the case of animals that are heavily fed, there is sometimes difficulty in getting the heifers in calf.

It is undesirable to have cows freshen during the latter part of the summer, because their milk production will be seriously hindered by hot weather, flies, and dried-up pastures.
Rather than have heifers freshen during the summer months, it is advisable to postpone their breeding so that they will freshen during the cooler season.

ADDING VARIETY TO RATION

Feeding Alfalfa Hay Before Cattle
Run on Pasture Is Especially Good in Avoiding Bloat.

(By R. H. WILLIAMS, Animal Husband-man, Arizona Experiment Station.)

Stockmen have proved to their own satisfaction that it pays to have some alfalfa hay before cattle run on alfalfa pasture. This is especially beneficial in avoiding bloat and adding variety to the ration. The animals seem to get tired of succulent feed and wish a variety. On this account it is always wise to have a feed rack either in the lane or in the field where the animals may receive the dry feed.
Dairy cows especially will relish a few bites of the hay night and morning.
It is a simple matter to keep this hay in the dry lot adjacent to the barn
where the cows may eat before milking after milking. Better gains will be made in the young stock and also cows will yield more milk and do better if allowed alfalfa hay while on pasture.

CAUSE OF DISEASED UDDERS

Bitter Taste and Rancid Smell in Milk
Traced to One Cow in Herd—Cases of Sore Throat.

Dairymen have occasionally been puzzled by a bitter taste and rancid smell in milk, produced under sanitary conditions. It has been found that such conditions can arise from one cow in the herd with a diseased udder and a bacterium has been isolated as the immediate cause in the milk. The bacterium credited as the disturbing factor is said to belong to the group lactis aerogenes. On a farm in Wisconsin they found three cows affected with mastitis to which was traced the cause of 200 cases of severe sore throat among the persons using milk from the herd.

MUST RAISE DAIRY CALVES

To Increase Number of Cows It Is Advisable That Farmers Begin Raising Their Own.

If we are to increase the number of cows, as seems advisable, some farmers must raise calves of the dairy type. It is hoped that many farmers will decide to begin raising cows and producing dairy products. The first essential will be food for the family, then a surplus to sell, then soil fertility which will be possible where cows are kept.

AVOID FILTH IN CALF PENS

Important That Young Animal Have Clean Stall and Dry Bedding—Dirt Breeds Disease.

Many of the troubles that the calves of this country are heir to can be traced directly to unclean surroundings. The calf should have a clean, dry stall, clean pails from which to eat and clean, dry bedding all the time.
Filth breeds disease more quickly in the calf pen than anywhere else.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

From the maple a voice from the willow a sign,
From the marshes soft odors that bring
To the eyes that can see, to the ears
that can hear
The news of the coming of spring.

WAYS WITH MEAT.

A dish which will take the place of meat and is most nourishing is Philadelphia scrapple. Take a cleaned pig's head and boil until the flesh slips easily from the bones.
Remove all the bones and chop the meat. Set aside the liquor in which the head was cooked until cold, then take off the fat. Return the liquor to the heat and boil, add cornmeal to make a mush and cook until well done, then stir in the chopped meat and any seasonings desired. Some like a little sage with the pepper and salt. Pour the mush into a mold which will form nice-shaped slices and set away to become firm. Slice and fry for any meal. This makes a very popular Southern breakfast dish. One may use any bits of chopped meat, or pork scraps left from trying out pork rather than the pig's head if preferred.

Chopped Steak.—Put two pounds of round steak twice through the meat chopper, season with pepper and onion juice, form into a flat cake and place in a greased baking pan over a hot fire. Brown and then salt well the browned side and quickly brown
the other. Set in a hot oven to finish cooking and serve with a brown sauce made from the liquor in the pan.

Leg of Mutton Cooked in Cider.— Buy the leg of mutton several days before using it. Wipe and rub with the following mixture of spices: A half teaspoonful of cinnamon, the same of allspice and cloves, pepper, nutmeg and ginger. Rub these into the meat well, making pockets to hold them under the skin in places. Let stand two days. When wanted to roast place in a large pan with four chopped onions and a cupful of seedless raisins. Pour over it two quarts of sweet cider and cover with oiled paper or another pan. Put into a hot oven and when the meat is well browned reduce the heat, basting and cooking slowly for two hours. Add salt a teaspoonful to the pound as it is cooked.

It is well rubbed in. Serve with the sauce boiled down until thick. Strain, remove the fat and turn into a sauce-boat.

The task of the winter must cling,
And my soul makes reply to earth,
Ocean and sky
A welcome—a welcome to spring.

RICE A VALUABLE FOOD.

Plain boiled rice well cooked is digested and begins to be assimilated in one hour while many of the other cereals need
three and four hours.

Savory Rice.

This dish may be varied in countless ways. First have the rice well
cooked; it should be well washed and dropped into rapidly boiling water which has been salted, and allowed to cook until every grain stands out by itself, is tender and yet not mushy. Now take a cupful of cooked rice, put a layer of it in a well-buttered dish, then cover with a small layer of chopped chicken, giblets or any minced meat, with a broth or white sauce well seasoned and added with each layer. Bake until thoroughly hot and serve as a main dish or as a substitute for meat. To-matos, with onion and a little chopped beef and rice, prepared in this way is another good dish.

Swedish Rice.—Boil a cupful of rice until tender in salted water. Drain and dry in the oven. Stir into it two tablespoonfuls of sweet fat, the yolks of two eggs well beaten, a teaspoonful of onion juice and salt and pepper to taste. Stir over the fire in a dish set in hot water, using a fork to stir with.
Turn into a round bowl to mold, then unmold on a platter and heat in the oven. Serve with drawn butter sauce.

Rice With Eggs.—Take a quarter of a cupful of washed and drained rice, add a tablespoonful of sweet fat and stir until a light yellow over the heat.
Add broth, potato or any other vegetable water, and cook covered until the rice is tender, then season well and stir in two or three fresh eggs;
stir until cooked, then serve at once.
This dish tastes like scrambled eggs, but a very few eggs need be used to serve five. Milk may take the place of the broth in cooking the rice. Skim milk may be used in many such dishes to advantage.

A small amount of hulled rice added to gums, muffins or griddle cakes improves them. Plain boiled rice dressed as mashed potato will serve as a vegetable with steak. Rice made into cakes and fried, or into croquettes and served with a sauce are well-liked dishes.

GREEN-FORD AUTO CO
Agents Greenville, Ky.

You know, of course, that the Maxwell Motor Car is the long distance champion of the world.

You have read that a "stock" Maxwell 5-passenger car ran for 44 days and nights without stopping the motor.

And that, in the 44 days non-stop test, the Maxwell covered 22,022 miles, at an average speed of 25 miles per hour.

But have you, up to now, realized the full significance of that performance?

Do you know that no other motor car in the world has ever equalled or even approached that performance?

In a word, did you take this test seriously when you heard of it?

Or did you set it down as a "selling stunt" to give the publicity man something to talk about?

It's worth your while to read and to study the conditions under which that test was made.

You know that the American Automobile Association (familiarly known as the
"A. A. A.") is the official arbiter of every automobile test and contest.

But perhaps you didn't know that when a maker places his product under A. A. A. supervision he must do absolutely as told and abide by the decisions of the Board.
That's why there are so few A. A. A. Official Records!

This 22,000-mile Maxwell non-stop test was official from start to finish.

Therein lies its value to you.

It proves absolutely the quality of the car—of the very Maxwell you buy.

For verily this was a "stock" Maxwell. Listen:—

First: the inspectors disassembled the motor to see that no special pistons, valves, bearing-metal or other parts had been used.

Every other unit was as critically inspected. Then the car was re-assembled under their own supervision.

As we had much at stake and the test was made in winter (November 23 to January 5) we asked permission to take certain little precautions against accidental stoppage.

Sounds reasonable, doesn't it?

But they refused permission to do any such thing.

For example:— They would not permit a rubber cover over the magneto—it wasn't "stock."

They refused to let us tape the ignition wire terminals—they are not taped on the Maxwells we sell—so of course it wasn't "stock."

Neither would they let us use a spiral coiled pipe in place of the usual straight one from tank to carburetor to guard against a breakage from the constant, unremitting vibration—it isn't "stock."

Nor to use a special high priced foreign make of spark plug—the run was made on the same spark plugs with which all Maxwells are equipped.

So rigid were the rules, we were unable to carry a spare tire on the rear—it wasn't "stock." A telegram to headquarters in New York finally brought a special permit to carry a spare tire.

"It isn't stock!" "It isn't stock!"

That was the laconic reply of those A. A. A. inspectors to every last suggestion that called for anything but the precise condition of the standard, stock model Maxwell that any customer can buy from any one of 3000 dealers anywhere.

We are glad now—mighty glad—that the rules were so strict and so rigidly enforced.

Any other car that ever attempts to equal that record must do it under official supervision—and comply with the same terms.

And it will have to go some.

For Maxwell set the standard when it performed this wonderful feat.

Maxwell complied with those rules—and made good.

Every drop of gasoline and oil and water was measured out and poured in by the inspectors themselves. They would not even let our man pour it in!

Every four hours the car had to report at the official station for checking.

And it had to be there on the minute.

And every minute there was an inspector beside the driver on the front seat—two more men in the rear. One got out only to let another in—day and night for 44 days and nights!

There was one technical stop.

It is interesting to know the circumstances.

Dead of night—a driving storm—a cloudburst—suddenly another car appeared in the road ahead.

In his effort to avoid a collision the Maxwell driver stalled his motor.

At least the observers thought it stopped and so reported.

The car did not stop, however, so its momentum again started the motor (if it had indeed stalled) when the clutch was let in.

The contest board exonerated our driver on grounds that his action was necessary to save life.

That shows you how rigid were the rules—how conscientiously applied by the observers.

You who have owned and driven motor cars—you who know how small a thing may clog a carburetor or a feed pipe; "short" a spark or stall a motor—will realize what a wonderfully well made car this must be to go through that test under those conditions—44 days—22,022 miles without stopping.

The exact amount of gasoline, of oil, of water used; the tire mileage, tire troubles, tire changes; the distance and the routes are matters of official record, attested under oath and guaranteed by the A. A. A.

(By the way, the average was nearly 10,000 miles per tire.)

Any Maxwell owner—or anyone interested may see those records.

And—here's the most wonderful part—though no attempt was or could be made for economy; the Maxwell averaged 22 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Some other car may, some time, equal some one of those performances. But to equal them all in the same test—that car must be a Maxwell.

"We Must Make Sacrifices in order to win the war."
—WOODROW WILSON.

Nothing is more comfortable than a pair of old shoes and a book of war savings stamps, says the Toledo Blade. Try two books of war savings stamps.

Use of automobiles on Sunday is left largely to the consciences of motorists, but it is safe to assume that public opinion will be a considerable factor in the future.

This war is a good thing for another reason. Except for it we Americans might never have discovered the infamous German propaganda here in the United States until it was everlastingly too late.

Words And Coin.

If words would swat the raging foe and lay a swath of Tuctons low, the war would end to night; we've countless lads who'd elocute the stuffing from the war lord, Teut, and put his hosts to flight. We've countless geni who spend their days inventing epigram and phrase and hard boiled metaphor; the way they roast the Hun is great and ought to j-r that Wilhelm skate—but words won't win the war. The gent who buys some green thrift s'amps brings terror in the Prussian camps far more than windy sharks who keep their kopecks in their pants, but stand erect at every chance to make a few remarks. Dig up, dig up, before you spelt! Dig up the bone, the l-u-k the wheel, the kroner and the yen! Go down in your tin savings bank, dig up the shilling and the franc, dig up the lion men! When you have stripped the strong box bare, then you may stand and paw the air until the cows come home; but talk that isn't backed by wealth won't interrupt a Teuton's health or cleave his crested dome. September comes—another "loan" will call for every hard earned bone that patriots can raise and he who buys himself a bond does more to help our boys beyond than all the screeching jays.

GEORGIA TAKES IN WASHING AND BUYS LIBERTY BONDS

REASONS THAT THE MORE CHILDREN THERE ARE THE MORE BONDS SHE SHOULD BUY.

DETESTS UNSPEAKABLE HUN

Says Uncle Sam Just Has to Win This War and She Intends Doing Her Part.

There are five children in the family of Georgia Sampson, who washes clothes and windows and floors to earn a living for herself and the five and to make life roster for her patrons.

There is no one to help with the jiving, because Jim, Georgia's amiable husband, saw fit to wander too far into the turbulent stream which appealed to his sportsman instincts and it carried him off his feet.

While she was hanging out a line full of snow-white wet clothes the other day her employer was helping her and getting the ever-present value of Georgia's conversation at the same time, and the question of household expenses arose.

"It takes right smart lot of hustlin' now," Georgia commented through the clothespins in her mouth, "to do everything that's gotta be done. What with payin' for my Liberty Bonds and buyin' what we gotta eat, it keeps me sure busy."

"That's splendid of you to buy a Liberty Bond," her employer said. "I know that it must be a good deal for you to try."

Georgia Buys Liberty Bonds. "Lawdy me!" she exclaimed. "I got more'n one, and I'm goin' to take another this time. Course, you see, I gotta take more'n some people, on account of havin' more children."

"On account of having more children?" I should think they would be an excuse for you not to take any!"

Georgia stopped hanging petticoats and planted her hands on her hips. "Why, Mrs. Lewis, I'm surprised. You know what would happen to our children, don't you, if Uncle Sam didn't win this war? Lawdy, it wouldn't hurt me so much—cept just my feelin's, of course—cause I won't be here so awful long anyhow. But my children? I just wouldn't want to leave 'em on this earth at all if that Kaiser won. I should think everyone would feel the same. Sure they do. Well, then, the more children I got, don't that mean the more I ought to give to help win it? I got five of my own flesh and blood at stake in this war, even if they are too young to fight in it. I guess that means I'm goin' to have my share of Uncle Sam's, so he'll win it for 'em, don't it?"

HOLD YOUR LIBERTY BONDS

If Absolutely Necessary to Dispose Of Them, Consult Your Banker.

To successfully finance the war it is necessary that owners of Liberty Bonds hold their bonds if possible. Where for any good reason it is necessary for them to turn their bonds into cash they should seek the advice of their bankers.

Liberty Loan bonds are very desirable investments, and crafty individuals are using various means to secure them from owners not familiar with stock values and like matters. One method is to offer to exchange for Liberty Bonds stocks or bonds of doubtful organizations represented as returning a much higher income than the Bonds.

There are various other methods used and likely to be used, some of the gold-brick variety and others less crude and probably within the limits of the law. All offers for Liberty Bonds, except for money and at market value, should be scrutinized carefully. The bonds are the safest of investments and have nontaxable and other valuable features.

To hold your Liberty Loan bonds, if possible, is patriotic. To consult your bankers before selling them is wise.

COLLECTING THE U. S. TAX

Blackens Will Be Scarce When Treasury Department Plans Are Complete.

In the execution of the policy of paying as large a proportion of the expenses of the war by taxation as possible the Treasury is making every effort to collect all Federal taxes due to the United States.

The department has evidence against many who have sought to evade taxes. Some of these tax evaders are American citizens residing or sojourning in Canada. A corps of specially trained revenue agents will be sent to the Canadian communities where many of these tax evaders reside to obtain tax returns from them.

The Kaiser Is Going to Move.

It is just as well for the Kaiser, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, if he hasn't jut in his winter coat—because he is going to move. The quick subscription of the Fourth Liberty Loan will help him on his way.

Labor's Pledge On Labor Day.

The following pledge of American labor shows where the workers of this country stand in the world struggle for freedom:

"On this Labor Day, the day America gives formal pause to her endeavors to pay homage to her sons of toil, through whose creative energy the great machinery of her industries is involved and guided, we, the working people of America make this declaration to our native land:—

We are engaged in a great war for the preservation of our democratic institution and for all the opportunities that lie only in democracy.

In this great struggle we know no cause but our nation's, we know no allegiance but to America.

We value above everything the liberty for which America stands and we declare that no sacrifice is too great for the safe guarding of that liberty.

We pay high tribute to the valiant American army in France, and it is our pride that thousands in that army have come from our own ranks.

We in the workplaces of America constitute the industrial army of our land, and we know full well, the importance of this service. We know full well, also, the honor and dignity and responsibility of this service.

We declare it to be our inflexible purpose to so order our conduct that our service may be of the highest value to our nation at war, and we hold it to be a fixed principle that conduct which cannot be justified to our brother on the firing line is intolerable and cannot be condoned.

We set above life itself the cause for which America entered this war, and we proclaim our condemnation of all men and agencies which set themselves in the way of our course of victory.

We declare that the cause of America is the cause of humanity everywhere, and that he who obstructs the defense of this cause by over-cautiousness is a traitor to mankind.

We the working people of America on this Labor Day, renew our pledge and covenant to humanity for the everlasting freedom of humanity through the institutions of democracy made safe from encroachment."

Nation-Wide Preparedness

North, South, East, West—all working to put the Nation in fighting trim!

Army and Navy departments and districts, camps, yards, coast-guard stations, light houses, munition, construction and textile plants—all co-ordinating to mould the vast organization into an effective homogeneous force! And in this enormous task the country's telephone network has been and will continue to be the great indispensable agent of communication.

The Bell system has enlisted every resource at its command and offered all unreservedly to the government.

This, together with the immensely increased commercial demand for service, the general shortage of materials, and the enlistment and draft of a large number of technically trained employees who cannot be replaced, will, it is hoped, be borne in mind by every loyal American if there should later result the necessity for subordinating private convenience to the pressing needs of the government.

We are not sitting idly by and waiting for a bright day when our money can buy equipment. We are using every means at our command to keep our service up to its usual high standard. You will want to help because you will be helping your own service and enabling us to do a better job for Uncle Sam.

We appreciate co-operation.

The Hopkinsville Kentuckian, one of the best known papers in Western Kentucky, suspended publication last Saturday, the editor, Chas. M. Meacham, after forty years' service, finding that his other interests would not permit his continuation on the tripod. Lack of help was one of the principal contributing causes, and it is likely that under new management the publication will be resumed in a short while.

Phaney Elizabeth, wife of Mr. F. M. Wood, died at 9 o'clock Monday morning at the home of her daughter Mrs. Thos. E. Sumner. She was in her 83rd year, and had been in serious condition for some time, from ailments incident to her extreme age. Deceased was a daughter of Daniel Williams, one of the prominent pioneers of the county, and is the last member of a large family. For some months she and her husband had been making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Sumner. Burial was in the Hughes graveyard, near Belton, Tuesday afternoon, and was attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends. Many people mourn the passing of this beloved woman, who held the highest regard of all who knew her.

School Opens Monday.

City schools opened last Monday, with an enrollment of 415, and of this number 118 are in high school, 48 of this number being students from the county. This is the largest enrollment we have had, and decidedly the largest class in high school from the county, showing the general interest in education. This promises to be the best year we have had, and teachers and pupils are eagerly entering upon their work, determined to accomplish to the utmost. Prof. C. H. Jagers, the new superintendent, has made a most favorable impression on our people and upon the student body, and the corps of teachers are joining him in every move for the betterment of every child in school.

We ask that everyone read carefully the Pledge of labor, to be found elsewhere in this issue. It is worthy of preserving in material form, as it will be gloriously kept in feeling, determination and action by the millions who toil—working now for the winning of the war above every other consideration.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Fall Term Muhlenberg Circuit Court Opens Here Monday.

The fall term of Muhlenberg circuit court has been in session since Monday morning, when Judge John S. Rhea convened court, swore in the juries, and after giving strong instructions to the grand jury, set the legal machinery in motion. There are very few important cases on the docket, and no murder case, but the docket is long, on account of preceding terms being adjourned. Hon. Randolph Mallory is representing the commonwealth and local court officials are doing all in their power to help in the dispatch of business. Following is a list of the juries:

GRAND JURY.

F. P. Bridges, foreman, J. A. Green, E. B. Arnett, J. N. Danner, L. M. Campbell, O. C. Rott, G. W. Brewer, W. M. Calvert, J. B. Kittinger, Luther Jones, E. C. Newman, D. B. Southard.

PETIT JURY.

Wes Gish, A. F. Walker, W. P. Whitmer, V. B. Southard, J. W. Allen, A. J. Yeargin, F. A. Irvin, Fred Wallace, J. T. Powell, J. A. Phillips, J. A. Shaver, W. N. Baxter, J. L. Fentress, C. W. Moulden, J. N. Tipton, Chas. Casky, J. W. Kendall, W. B. Fox, D. J. Jennings, M. A. Vinson, K. T. Bethel, R. H. Henry, J. C. Gibbs, Berry Tooley, H. W. Bivin.

Up to yesterday noon there had been only two convictions, Douglass Laswell being fined $50 for shooting and wounding in sudden heat and affray, and Harry Waddell was fined $20 for disturbing religious worship.

Attendance at court is light, as everyone is busy, and there is a short list of onlookers at the proceedings.

Prohibition Election In Christian.

An election has been called in Christian county, to vote on prohibition on Friday, October 4, and it is generally predicted that by an overwhelming majority the people will place the county in position to more thoroughly uphold its name, which has been badly smirched, the last few years, on account of the illegal motor-traffic in being whisky to Tennessee. One have recently captured many cars loaded with contraband goods, and are alert at all times to prevent the traffic but it is impossible to entirely suppress it. About twenty five saloons in Hopkinsville, Pembroke and Gracey will be closed if the county is voted dry.

Newest fall and winter style hats on display today at Simmons shop. Call and see them.

Tobacco cutting in on, and will last for quite a time, as the dry season has made a varying crop. While there is much of the weed that is fine, there is a short crop, and prices will rule high.

The kaiser should order a retreat less day once a week, anyway.

According to the spiders, there will be an early fall.

New showers are causing added freshness this week.

Even Old Gasoline Gus was patriotic, and did not use any gas last Sunday, and declares he will not use a drop until the ban is lifted. If everyone would do that, it would not be long until the embargo would be raised.

Ex-Policeman Assaulted on Street.

Mr. D. J. Jackson was last Saturday afternoon attacked by Walter Tooley on Main street and struck on the head with an iron pipe, inflicting an ugly cut on the side of the forehead. While serving as policeman, some months ago, Jackson arrested Tooley, and it is said an old grudge is what prompted Tooley in his attack. Tooley surrendered, and was released on bond, to await the action of the grand jury.

Notice.

Now that we are to have improved roads, as declared by the vote of our people, look out for a general improvement all over the county, and development of our resources.

Victrola And-Records Free to Some School.

The J. L. Roark Estate, county distributors of Victrolas and records, has offered a Victrola and twenty sections in records to the rural school showing the highest percentage in attendance this school year. There are quite a number of schools in the county using the Victrola, and more teachers are planning to do so. If any district buys a machine, and later it develops wins the prize, the amount paid will be refunded, up to the amount offered, but schools which have heretofore secured a machine will not be permitted to compete. Getting the pupil to attend school is one of the greatest needs of the day, and it is thought this prize will make the teachers even more active than they have been along this line. No town or village school are allowed to compete, the offer being confined to rural schools, and as the award is to be made on a percentage basis, the smallest district in the county has an equal chance with the larger. The announcement was made to the teachers at institute recently, and was received with enthusiasm.

To all our "less" days we have added a gasless one, and are still doing better than before.

Muhlenberg furnished 19 men for military service, that number leaving yesterday afternoon for Camp Taylor.

Gasless Sunday, for the first day, was a fair success, but conditions will improve as the time goes on and folks become familiar with the needs of the nation.

The vegetable supply has about been exhausted, and the shortage is leaving people with less stock of canned and dried fruits and vegetables than they have had for some years. This shortage is a serious one, and will add to the high cost of living.

If you have helped, get ready to do so again, and if you have not, make a start by buying bonds in the Fourth Liberty Loan drive beginning Sept. 28.

Victor supremacy

Before the Victor was offered to the American public, the public only knew music as it was produced on music boxes and cylinder records.

With the invention of the Victor and its disc records, there gradually followed a musical awakening of the American people, for here was music reproduced in exact accord with the artist's interpretation.

And, when the Victor Company, through the lavish expenditure of millions of dollars and the combined efforts of its research and experimental departments, introduced the Victrola to the public, there was immediately established a new standard by which other instruments of like character were measured.

Since this time the gradual decline of the old cylinder types of phonographs and records, has prompted other manufacturers to acknowledge the superiority of the Victrola by adopting a disc type of instrument in imitation of the Victrola, but lacking the exclusive Victrola features which are patented and which no one dares to infringe.

A genuine Victrola costs no more than other instruments that only look like a Victrola.

Victrolas $15 to $300. Easy terms, if desired. Come in and we will gladly play any music you wish to hear.

RED CROSS FAMILY REMEDIES

Many able Chemists and Doctors were called into service in perfecting this line of Red Cross Remedies.

This is an age of Specialists, and while one may have distinguished achievements to his credit in one particular line, another is excelling in something else. That very thing makes it possible for us to have a Red Cross Remedy for each ailment, and enables us to give the consumer more than we promise or charge for.

Each formula is compounded with as much care and precision as if our entire success depended upon that one Remedy. That's why NEUTRONE repairs shattered nerves, and Red Cross STONE ROOT and BUCHU puts your kidneys in a normal and healthy condition.

Red Cross Remedies are not Patent Medicines. The formula is printed on each carton in plain English, so that you know what they are composed of and what you are taking. More than one hundred Red Cross Remedies and Toilet Preparations are sold and guaranteed only by

FEEDING SILAGE TO STOCK

No Better or More Economical Feed as Roughage for Finished Stock for Market.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

As a roughage for finished stock there is no better or more economical feed than silage for it produces large daily gains and aids in keeping the animals in a healthy condition so that they can handle other feeds more effectively. An advantage in feeding silage to beef cattle that is often overlooked, is that it enables the feeder to carry his stock for a long time so as to pass over a period of depression in the market.

Silage also can be profitably used to supplement pastures for steers during a time of drought, when they are being finished for market.

For many years the belief was general that cattle which received silage as a major portion of the roughage would have to be kept in warm barns and not exposed to the cold. While they do need protection from the cold winds and rains and need a dry place to lie down, it has been clearly demonstrated that warm barns are not only unnecessary, but that fattened cattle make both larger and cheaper gains when fed in the open sheds than when confined in barns. Stocker or thin cattle receiving silage will, of course, need more protection than animals which are being fattened.

The theory that silage-fed cattle shrink very heavily in shipping to market is erroneous. While the actual shrinkage during transit is sometimes greater, the fill taken at market is usually good, and if good judgment is used in preparing them for shipping the net shrinkage is no greater than for cattle which have been fed on dry feeds. For 26 hours previous to shipping nice bright hay and stover should be substituted for the silage in the ration.

The general impression that choice or prime carcasses cannot be made by the use of succulent feed is equally untrue, as the silage-fed cattle usually make more desirable carcasses than cattle fed a similar ration, except that silage was replaced by one of the coarse fodders. There is no appreciable different in the case of marketable meat from cows which dress out which have been fed on a silage ration than on dry ration. The meat is usually of the same quality, the fat as well as the lean.

If silage makes up the bulk of the roughage it will be necessary to haul large amounts of bedding into the sheds to keep the animals dry, as there is no waste in silage, or else make a cement floor and cover with bedding to absorb the urine and prevent the animals from slipping and to give them a warm place to lie down. When the enormous saving in the quality and amount of the feed is considered, this disadvantage does not seem so hard to overcome by the stockman who has the capital to put up the silo and pave his feed sheds or feed lots.

FEED WORK HORSES ALFALFA

Bad Practice to Fill Manger Morning, Noon and Night and Let Animals Eat All They Want.

The method practiced by a majority of those who have been feeding alfalfa to work horses has been to fill the manger morning, noon and night, allowing the horse to eat all he wishes. Practice has been fed in this way without any serious results, but not so in the case of alfalfa hay. Alfalfa hay is very palatable and horses eat very large amounts. Excessive indigestion and soft, watery horses that are puffed in the necks, stocked on the legs and unable to endure hard work result. This has been the experience of hundreds of horsemen. The trouble is with the method

MORE CHICKENS ARE WANTED

Farmers Are Urged by Department of Agriculture to Stock Their Farms With More Poultry.

(From the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The United States department of agriculture urges as many as possible of the farmers who have not raised chickens to stock their farms this year with fowls, enough at least to supply the needs of their own households. This will be a big factor in the nation-wide campaign which will endeavor to double this year the chicken and egg production of the United States. According to the last census, of the 6,371,502 farms in the United States, 1,527,743 reported no egg production. The more-chicken-and-more-egg campaign is expected to displace millions of pounds of beef and pork in American menus and send the released product across the ocean to our soldiers, the allies, and the hungry people of the lands devastated by the Prussian war torch.

The department does not advise that the general farmer embark in extensive raising of poultry, but warns against such ventures. But it sees no reason why every farm should not produce enough chickens and eggs for its own use, and why there should not be enough surplus to make chickens and eggs available to the general public at reasonable prices and in such quantities that there will be markedly less domestic demand for the meats that are needed abroad and that can be transported there.

LIMBER NECK IN CHICKENS

Affliction Caused by Potomac Poisoning From Eating Decaying Flesh—Try to Prevent.

Limber neck in chickens is caused by ptomaine poisoning from eating decaying flesh. Where fowls run at large they frequently pick up dead rats, mice or other animals and in this way become affected with the germs, which quickly cause death. Whole flocks are sometimes wiped out in the course of a few weeks.

Prevention is the best remedy. If you are losing chickens from this cause shut up the flock and feed them on sound, sweet grain and feed. A simple effective treatment is to use permanganate of potash. Put an ounce of the crystals in a quart bottle and fill it with water. Add enough of this to the drinking water to give it a rich purple color, and allow the fowls no other water to drink. Fowls which show symptoms of the disease should be given a dose night and morning.

FOWLS EAT WASTE MATERIAL

On Some Farms Chickens Pay for Themselves by Destruction of Injurious Insects.

(From the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Chickens as a by-product of general farming find much of their feed in the waste materials that otherwise would serve no useful purpose. The attention and labor they require can be given largely even by children, and should not require the employment of additional hired workers. On some farms the chickens practically pay for themselves by their destruction of orchard and vegetable insects. On others they help to pay for themselves by their production of manure, which when properly used largely increases the value of the land. Fifty fowls will annually produce at least a ton of manure that can be made as valuable as commercial fertilizer.

WHY HATCH EARLY.

Chickens hatched early in the spring are large in the summer, mature early in the fall, and lay eggs in the winter. They will sit early the following spring, produce earlier chickens—and the process will be repeated by the offspring.

But the chickens hatched late in the spring will not mature until late in the fall—so late that they will not lay in the winter. They will not sit until late in the following spring—and again the process will be repeated.

The jury finds that the argument is all in favor of early hatching—especially this year.

DAIRY THE DAIRY

SKIMMED MILK FOR CALVES

Since Most of Fat Has Been Removed in Cream Carbohydrates Needed to Make It Balanced.

Skimmed milk is a little richer in protein than whole milk, but lower in carbohydrates. Since most of the fat has been removed in the cream the skimmed milk will need carbohydrates to make it a balanced ration for calves.

A good plan is to replace a portion of the whole milk with skimmed milk, gradually increase the skimmed milk with some form of carbohydrates till all of the whole milk is replaced by skimmed milk. Fine ground meal is one of the best carbohydrate supplements to be fed with skimmed milk. Some feeders cook the meal, stir it in the skimmed milk and feed it to the calf. After the calf is two weeks old it will eat fine ground meal and if fed small quantities will assimilate it. Linseed meal is also used.

Care should be taken in feeding calves. They should be taught to drink from the pail as soon as possible. Nothing but clean vessels should be used and the milk should be clean and warm.

CLEAN UTENSILS ARE URGED

High Grade of Milk Cannot Be Obtained if Pails and Cans Are Not Thoroughly Washed.

(By E. H. FARRINGTON, Wisconsin Agricultural College.)

All efforts to supply the consumers with sweet, clean milk are useless if the milk pails, the cans, and other utensils are not thoroughly washed and scalded before milk is poured into them. Milk sours so quickly and it is so difficult to remove the sour odor from the utensils that these should be washed immediately after they are used.

(1) Milk pails and cans should be smooth, with all cracks and seams flushed with solder. Seamless pails and cans have been placed on the market.

(2) When washing tinware, first rinse off the film of milk on the surface with cold water, then wash thoroughly with warm water and cleaning soda, using a brush, and finally rinse with scalding hot water and place in the sun or some place free from dust to dry.

(3) After scalding, do not wipe milk tinware with a cloth, but let the rinsing water be so hot that there is no further need of drying.

CHAPPED TEATS ARE VEXING

Where Cows Wade Around in Muddy Yards and Pastures, Teats Often Get Wet and Cold.

Sore teats of any kind are very unpleasant, both to the cow and the milker. A cow having sore teats of any kind does not stand still during milking. She keeps moving about and even kicking.

During spring chapped teats are common. The cows wade around in muddy yards and even in ponds in the pasture, the teats get wet and cold, and if no special attention is given to the cows, the teats frequently become very sore.

RETAIN BULL UNTIL TESTED

Not Good Policy to Sell to Butcher After Two Years' Service—May Prove to Be Valuable.

After a young or untried bull has been used two-years he should not be sold to the butcher, because he may prove to be a bull of exceptional worth when his daughters freshen. Such a bull often can be lent or leased to a neighbor with a grade herd for a couple of years until some of his heifers freshen. In this way he always is subject to recall in case he proves especially valuable.

I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak. I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for my trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few doses of Black-Draught."
